The Princeton Folk Music Society presents Muriel Anderson

Friday, May 20, 2022, 8:00 pm
Christ Congregation Church
50 Walnut Lane, Princeton, NJ

The Princeton Folk Music Society presents an evening of dazzling fingerstyle guitar music with Muriel Anderson, a guitarist, harp guitarist, and composer who embraces music from all over the world. Her harp guitar combines nylon guitar strings, which allow for great variety in tone color with steel harp strings, which contribute resonating basses and high sparkling trebles. Muriel's playing reflects a sense of grace and joy, infused with humor. Her facility across the genres of folk, classical, bluegrass, popular and international music is revered by guitarists worldwide.

"She has demonstrated excellent technique and has the fine musicianship to communicate well to her audiences." Christopher Parkening

Tickets at the door: $25 ($20 members, $10 students 12 - 22, $5 children 11 and under). Ample free parking. Masks and proof of full vaccination will be required for admission. A livestream also is available.
